Enter: night

Bring on the night---
Where those dear play,
And where freaks come out anyway
Go ahead, bring on the night.
Bring on the night---
Where travel is often and much go,
Where the travelers are on the go,
So, bring on the night.

Bring on the night---
The creature of the night reign,
As they come out like stars with flames,
Bring on the night.

Bring on the night---
Of every drug dealer and dope head
The hookers walking like the dead
Yes, bring on the night.

Bring on the night---
Every baby's mama hanging tough
Late night creepers who think they're rough,
Just bring on the night!

Late night watchers watching so,

Bring on the night!

Creepy crawlers crawling you know,

Bring on the night!

Day turned trippers,

Bring on the night!

Coffee drinking tippers,

Bring on the night!

That's right bring it on,

Bring on the night!

Bring it on!

Bring it on and on and on...

May 2002

And the wheels of life

Goes around

Until you want to holler

Let me get off please!

I don't want to ride anymore

On this merry-go-round of troubles

A circle of misery

That circle of my life and it wears me down

Down, down, down to the ground

Until I reached the pits of that very HELL!

And the wheels of life

Is going around in circles

Where there is no ending

Just one big circle of life

Surrounded

Going in circles

Starting with birth

And ending with death.

And the wheels of life

Still going around

But will it stop?

poem: summer

the heat of the city

feel it what a pity

for the brothers and sisters who have 2 come out to work for a living as they live in the city.

my Lord, what a day!

it finally came my way to see another God-forsaken heated day.

It’s summertime!

summertime---

and the living is hell

can you tell?

from sweat coming off my forehead feeling thirsty and half dead.

yes, it's summertime!

it’s a hot july

and that’s no lie

it’s hotter in july, august, september or did you forget or did u remember how was the summer of long ago?

its summertime---

and the living is hell

can you tell me?

when the weather is dry?

fish stopped jumping

and that girl is good looking

so, rush everybody

to the ac inside...
